About the Webinar:

Khurana & Khurana, IIPRD and PatentPal have put together a comprehensive 1-Hour Session on focused on Automated Patent Drafting - the way forward. The session would take PatentPal (www.patentpal.com), an automated and state of the art Patent Preparation/Drafting Software that can assist in seamlessly drafting/preparing patent specifications (including illustrations) as an exemplary case study, wherein IIPRD and PatentPal have partnered together for commercialization of the software that intends to save at least 30-40% of time taken to draft Patent Specifications. The Webinar aims to provide an insight on the workings of the PatentPal, focusing on:

- Scope of Automation in Patent Preparation/Drafting.
- Inputs required for running the ML/AI based drafting engine, and Output expected.
- How the generated draft handles all 112/claim support and reference numeral and proof reading issues.
- How the patent drafts can bring in a ready-to-file specification in which editing and reverse editing impact can be undertaken in real-time.
- How it helps the firms automate workflows in creating new intellectual property assets easily.
- How it automates much of the mechanical writing and repetition across claims, diagrams, and description sections of the patent.
- How such applications can be configured as a time saving tool for the Patent professionals across territories.
